Tom Caskanett has 15 years of experience in commercial real estate and over 20 years of corporate experience as a senior executive. He specializes in office and industrial brokerage in the St. Louis market as well as handling national and international corporate services and consulting assignments.

Tom has successfully represented several medium and large corporate clients including: Ralston Purina, Energizer (Eveready Battery), General Mills, EnviroPak, Fabick Tractor Co., Schaefer-Meyer Grading Inc., Kienstra Enterprises, Chep USA, Gannett, Manna Pro, Omniplex Communications, Boxes Inc. and Summit Container.

He has experience in both listing and tenant representation assignments for lease and sale properties. In addition to the St. Louis metropolitan area, he has completed national assignments in several markets, including San Francisco, Los Angeles, New York, Atlanta, Tampa, Detroit as well as Brazil and Venezuela internationally.

Previously, Tom was executive vice president of marketing and sales for Angelica Corporation, a Fortune 500 uniform company. Prior to Angelica Corporation, he was vice president and director of the Specialty Foods Division at Ralston Purina Company. His general management responsibilities included sales, marketing, manufacturing, finance, acquisitions and strategic planning. His experience as a corporate executive gives him insight as to the real estate needs of medium to large corporations, including financial and investment parameters.
